

CONFESSIONS OF A WHISTLEBLOWER

Dr David Drew reveals what really happens to those who speak up for their NHS patients in Little Stories of Life and Death @NHSWhistleblower

The scandals of poor care and repeated cover-ups in the NHS in recent years have raised serious questions about the mistreatment of NHS whistleblowers. This book offers the first detailed account of the ruin of a highly competent senior doctor who blew the whistle.

“The NHS is a wonderful institution. It largely provides what its founders intended: medical care for all from cradle to grave, free at the point of use and funded by general taxation. Nevertheless, it’s not perfect. Scandals at the Bristol Children’s Heart Unit and, more recently, at Stafford General Hospital, Furness General Hospital and Heart of England Foundation Trust, have shaken public confidence. Abysmal care and, worse, the cover-up of patient harm and avoidable death, have come to light. It is against this background that I offer my own story. I was one of those doctors who spoke up for patients and suffered the consequences,” comments Dr David Drew, former consultant paediatrician turned NHS whistleblower.

Dr Drew worked as a NHS consultant at Walsall Manor Hospital for over 19 years, including 7 spent as head of the paediatric department, before ongoing concerns over the state of poor care led him to become a whistleblower, putting him on a collision course with senior NHS hospital managers. Removed as head of department, he was suspended on trumped up charges, faced allegations of mental illness and disciplinary action and was dismissed for Gross Misconduct and Insubordination. David’s eye-opening account gives a unique insight into the NHS procedures that are used to dispose of senior management’s critics – at the cost of patient care.

‘There are no pseudonyms here, just glaring honesty backed up by thousands of pages of supporting documents and other evidence. Given the fate that befalls most NHS whistleblowers, it is brave almost beyond belief. Drew is the doctor who wouldn’t be silenced. And he deserves to be listened to. The truth and reconciliation the NHS so badly needs starts here. Read it and speak.’ Phil Hammond, doctor, journalist, broadcaster, medical correspondent for Private Eye and Patron of Patients’ First
