The Writers' Advice Centre for Children's Books is a literary consultancy service offering all kinds of advice and training to children's writers. Since 1994 we have been providing children's writers with expert advice and encouragement which can hugely increase chances of publication. We work directly with selected publishers and agents and our aim is to give all our writers the best possible chance of getting published.

Our prices start from as little as £50 and we are offering a 5% discount on our services, home study course and mentoring scheme fees for anyone referred to us from the Matador site. Please quote 'Matador' when placing your order.
