

THE RINGER

Greg Hunt

High up in the Andean mountain range, a special convoy is at the start of a difficult journey. The precious goods within will ensure the riches of a secretive group.

Archie Malcolm is a student, working for the Navy and looking for love. He's a bell-ringer at the local cathedral, wondering where his life is going, when he is given his first task: to reduce the rise of illegal substances entering the UK. The opportunity for him to lead his own team of men is irresistible and he embarks on a journey that takes him to the Alps. The mission ultimately brings him closer to home than he could ever imagine and starts to conflict with former friends and those he loves and admired. When he finds the task given to him far greater than he could ever have expected, he turns to his friends for help. Will Archie discover the truth behind the corruption on his doorstep and bring down those responsible... And will he find love? Will his friends save him or will they be his downfall?

The Ringer is a fast-paced action novel with a gripping plot and an ingenious unique bell-ringing story thread. Join the elite team who have been given a compromised mission that results in a rollercoaster read and an adrenaline-fuelled ending. It will be enjoyed by fans of exciting action adventure novels and is inspired by authors including James Patterson, Dan Brown and Jeffrey Archer.

About the Author:

Greg is a chartered surveyor by profession and a writer and family man at home. The novel brings together his love for the mountains and travelling with his experiences as a ski guide in the Alps and of ringing church bells.

PUBLISHED 1st November 2011

£6.99

ISBN 9781848767027

Distributor: ★Orca Book Services. Tel: 01235 465521. Email: tradeorders@orcabookservices.co.uk

BIC subject category : FJ – Adventure

Paperback 224PP 216x138 mm Portrait

PLEASE CONTACT SARAH TAYLOR

TEL: 0116 279 2299 EMAIL: MARKETING@TROUBADOR.CO.UK

TROUBADOR PUBLISHING LTD, 9 PRIORY BUSINESS PARK, KIBWORTH, LEICESTER LE8 0RX